

Charles Kowalski and Mind Virus

SOUTHWEST HARBOR – Charles Kowalski will be at the Southwest Harbor Public Library to discuss his new novel, Mind Virus, Tuesday evening, August 15, 5:30.

Mind Virus, Kowalski's first book, won the prestigious Rocky Mountain Fiction Writers Colorado Gold Award and was finalist for the Clive Cussler Grandmaster Award, Killer Nashville Claymore Award and the Pacific Northwest Writers Association Literacy Award. It tells the story of Robin Fox, a professor of world religions and retired military interrogator, and his race to stop a psychopath from unleashing global destruction.

When an unknown assailant releases a deadly virus Fox is called back to the shadowy world of intelligence. Both the FBI and CIA suspect Islamic terrorists but as Fox digs deeper he discovers a conspiracy to wipe out religion from all corners of the world. He travels the globe in his race to save Earth from this massive devastation.

The book is well researched and thoughtfully written. Kowalski challenges the reader to think about beliefs and how they may direct the way one acts towards others and themselves. It is also an exciting page turner that may keep you up all night.

Many may know Charles as the son of Southwest Harbor Public Library Assistant, Vesta Kowalski. There will be books for sale and signing. For more information, call the Library at 207-244-7065.
